"Juneteenth Reflections"

Barley Donahue: Presenter

Colleen Beery: Service Associate

President Joe Biden made Juneteenth an official federal holiday in 2022. The emancipation proclamation passed in 1863, but did not instantly free enslaved people in Texas. On June 19, 1865 General Granger read the proclamation in Texas which freed 250,000 slaves. Celebrations began to break out and an annual event was created. This service will explore the meaning of Juneteenth.

NEXT WEEK:

JUNE 18, 2023

“Flower Communion-100th Anniversary”

Presented by the Sunday Service Committee
Dee Dee Camhi, Service Associate

The Flower Ceremony is a celebration of the beauty and diversity of the world around us and the beauty and diversity among the people around us. 2023 marks the 100th anniversary of this UU celebration.

It's been said that what you laugh at reveals who you are...seriously. Maybe. For good or ill, humor is perhaps one of the few uniquely human talents. Let's explore humor, laughter and the lighter side of our nature from our UU Humanist perspective. Maybe.
